Hello again!

First of all I want to say I'm sorry this newsletter is so late. But I was gone for a two-week holiday and I just returned. Be assured, I'll do my best to see that it doesn't happen again.

"Pictures of Lily" has been released here on Decca. Let's all see that it does better than "Happy Jack". Let the D.J.'s at your local radio stations know you want to hear it.

John Entwistle married Allison Wise on June 23rd. I know everyone will wish them the best of luck.

In the past I've been getting records for those of you who wanted them. Because of the time and extra expense I won't be able to in the future. But, if you would like to get any of the Who records, here is the info on how to buy them:

Singles-$1.00, E.P.'s-$2.00, and L.P.'s-$5.00. The minimum order being two singles. And if you want them sent by air mail it's an additional dollar. The address is -- Heanor Record Centre, Ltd., 41 Derby Road, Heanor, Derbyshire, England. If you like, you can write to them asking for a catalog, which lists records by top artists, that you can purchase from them.

For those of you who have already sent me money for records and still haven't gotten them, let me know and I will refund you the money.

I still have for 35¢ color pictures of the group, Pete, Roger, and John and too for 10¢ the wallet size picture of Keith. In addition, I now have a color picture of Keith for 35¢ with his drums and another of Keith, black and white, for 15¢, playing the drums. If you'd like any of them, send the correct amount to me with a self-addressed stamped reply envelope.

If you would like to order anything from the club in England, there is now a new address. Sue Davenport has taken charge of the club and her address is 58 Old Compton Street, London W.1., England.

Once again, I want to say I like very much hearing from all of you, and thank those of you who have written me. But, when you do write, please enclose a self-addressed stamped reply envelope. Not only does it assure you of getting a reply, but helps me out, as well.

Hope all of you will get an opportunity to see the Who when they tour this and next month with Herman's Hermits. Let me hear from you if you do.

Bye for now---

WHOfully yours,

Linda
